[As required under Section 197(12) of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 5(1), (2) and (3) of the Companies (Appointment and Remuneration of Managerial Personnel) Rules, 2014]

Ratio of remuneration of each Director to the median remuneration of the employees of the Company for the financial year ended March 31, 2025 and the percentage increase in the remuneration of each Director, Chief Financial Officer and Company Secretary in the financial year ended March 31, 2025 is as under:

Name of Director / Key Managerial Personnel	Ratio of remuneration of each Director/KMP to the Median remuneration of Employees	% Increase in remuneration in the financial year ended March 31, 2025
Executive Directors
Mr. Dipak Goyal Managing Director & CFO	11.54	Nil

Mr. Dipak Goyal Chief Financial Officer	11.54	Nil

- The percentage increase in the median remuneration of employees in the financial year: ~4%
- The number of permanent employees on the rolls of company: 355
- Average percentile increase already made in the salaries of employees other than the managerial personnel in the last financial year and its comparison with the percentile increase in the managerial remuneration and justification thereof and point out if there are any exceptional circumstances for increase in the managerial remuneration:

During the year under review, there has been a growth of ~6% in the salaries of employees other than managerial personnel. The percentile increase in managerial remuneration has been 0.00%, which, while modest, is notably higher compared to the ~4% increase in the remuneration for employees not part of the managerial group.

The remuneration for employees other than managerial personnel is determined based on their yearly performance, following an increment structure that is uniformly applied across the board. As management roles involve addressing critical issues that impact the company's survival, growth, and strategic direction and given the scarcity of managerial talent, retaining these individuals is crucial. Executives in management are accountable to all stakeholders for both business performance and corporate governance. They must demonstrate sound judgment and mature decision-making skills, particularly in an industry that is rapidly evolving and becoming increasingly complex. These factors justify the relatively higher adjustment in managerial remuneration.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The HDPE/PP woven fabric and bags industry in India plays a crucial role in the broader packaging sector, thanks to its versatility, durability, and cost-efficiency. These products are extensively used across agriculture, cement, fertilizer, chemicals, food grains, and retail packaging. India ranks among the largest producers and exporters of woven sacks. The industry has maintained a healthy growth trajectory with a CAGR growth in the past decade, driven by a shift from traditional jute to plastic packaging and rising demand from bulk logistics and export-oriented sectors. Cement Bags, mother bags ,flexible Intermediate Bulk Containers (FIBCs) and BOPP laminated woven bags represent the fastest-growing segments. India’s export footprint continues to expand, reaching countries across Europe, Asia, the Americas, and Africa. These woven products find applications in everything from agricultural packaging and construction materials to industrial chemicals and technical textiles. The manufacturing process includes extrusion of plastic tapes, weaving via circular looms, optional lamination for waterproofing, and final conversion through cutting, stitching, and printing. Financially, the sector presents solid investment potential, as exemplified by project estimates showing capital outlay of Rs.234.4 lakhs against an annual turnover of Rs.727.92 lakhs and a break-even point at 72% capacity utilization. The industry’s strategic advantages—recyclability, high tensile strength, moisture resistance, and customizability—position it for sustained growth, aligned with global trends in eco-conscious and efficient packaging solutions.

The non-woven fabric and bags industry is experiencing robust growth globally, driven by increasing demand for sustainable and cost-effective alternatives to traditional packaging materials. Non-woven fabrics, typically made from polypropylene, are manufactured using processes like spunbond and meltblown techniques, resulting in lightweight, durable, and versatile materials. These fabrics are widely used across sectors such as healthcare, construction, automotive, and agriculture due to their properties like absorbency, flame retardancy, and bacterial resistance. The market for non-woven fabrics is projected to reach USD 81.96 billion by 2030, growing at a CAGR of 6.11%. As more consumers opt for online shopping, there is a rising demand for innovative and sustainable packaging solutions tailored to the needs of companies. With increasing environmental concerns and regulations, there's a growing demand for bio-based and sustainable packaging materials in India. This presents an opportunity for the paper and packaging industry to develop eco-friendly alternatives to conventional packaging materials. India's rising middle class and increasing disposable income have led to a growing market for luxury goods. This creates a demand for premium packaging solutions that reflect the brand's identity and enhance the perceived value of the product. India's expanding retail sector, coupled with government initiatives such as "Make in India" and GST reforms, is driving the need for modern packaging infrastructure across the country. This presents an opportunity for the paper and packaging industry to invest in the expansion and modernization of production facilities and distribution networks. Our inability to provide quality assurance, maintain relation with stakeholders including customers or any other factors beyond our control may adversely impact the growth of the Company.

OUTLOOK

The outlook for the paper and packaging industry in India is optimistic. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate implementation and maintenance of accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matter communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonable be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of SPP Polymer Limited ("the Company") as of 31st March, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the period ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("the ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, both issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
